

Guidance of Truth

It is the sole truth that comes to you as a proof of God's love, it is His Word, which He Himself conveys to you from on high And you can give full faith to this Word and value it as His direct address, which is irrefutable. What is now conveyed to you through God's Word, you can represent as the purest truth and bask in the light of the truth, and you need not fear being led into false thinking thereby And through the recognition of the truth from God, you will also be able to pass a correct judgment on the value or worthlessness of spiritual goods that are brought to you from the outside; you will be able to recognize whether it also has its origin in God or has flowed from another source

You are capable of distinguishing truth from error, for a light shines in you that dispels all darkness and also allows any impurity to be recognized, which could contaminate the pure spring water if it were not removed. What God Himself gives you is clear and pure, like the purest spring water, and this you shall protect from every contamination because otherwise it loses strength and effect. And you will need nothing else than that living water flowing from that spring to let your soul remain healthy and to keep it healthy, to bring it into a state so that after the death of the body it can enter the realm of light.

You therefore only need the pure truth from God to reach eternal life. This truth comes to every person who earnestly desires it, because there the adversary of God finds no entrance, precisely through the longing for the truth, which is equal to the longing for God Where this is not present, there the adversary has free access, there he can work unhindered, and his work will always be to spread darkness over people and to extinguish the light where it is possible for him

And he has easy access to human hearts, because in them the longing for truth is rarely present, which results in them letting themselves be caught in a net of lies and error and making no attempt to free themselves from it, that they thoughtlessly accept what is presented to them as truth, and do not ask whether that which is offered to them has a claim to be valued as truth

With them the adversary of God has an easy game He can always make the veil thicker that is before their eyes He can always present more error and lies to them, which is again thoughtlessly accepted It is not living water, it is a drink of death that these people take, which poisons their souls and lets them enter the otherworld realm completely darkened Every light is missing for them, and powerless they fall to eternal death, because only the light of truth can awaken them to life, because the light of truth can only come from God and they have not approached Him for it.

Far more is error spread in the world than the pure truth from God because the latter is not requested, but for the former people always have an open ears For the adversary brings thoughts and teachings to people that are music to their ears, which they like to hear and which always reinforce the error and therefore the darkness always grows larger. Yet people are dealt with according to their will, and therefore God can abundantly provide for you who long for the truth, and He will always give you light so that you can penetrate the darkness

He will enlighten you when errors seek to force themselves into your thinking He will not allow your light to be clouded, but let it always shine brighter, the deeper the darkness is around you, which you wish to flee And the brightest light is His Word, which He Himself conveys to you from on high, which He imparts to those who love Him and keep His commandments as He has promised

Amen
